Subject: Review Request No. 79026

Dear Ms. Radcliffe:

Confirming our phone conversation of 14 July, we are unable to offer any review recommendations on the two documents covered by your subject request based on the abstracts alone. We would appreciate your obtaining the documents themselves for our review.

As I mentioned in our phone conversation, we have a review team detailed to WNRC each week for a day or two. These reviewers will be glad to look at the documents in your office whenever you have them available. You may contact me on [] when the documents arrive, and I'll arrange with our review team to see you.

In order to satisfy the terms of EO 12065 DAAG-AMR-D has been engaged in a massive declassification staffing action of all the US Army originated documents still held in the Defense Technical Information Center that are more than 20 years old. Among the US Army proponents assisting in this effort is Dugway Proving Ground.

Dugway has reviewed the documents and has requested that we staff them and forward to CIA for review because they appear to be based on information taken from the National Intelligence Summaries published by your agency.

We would like you to review the abstracts for declassification. If you need the documents, they can be ordered from DTIC directly or we will assist you in obtaining them if you will call us.

Please return the attached abstracts to us. In any correspondence or telephone calls, please refer to the case control number which appears on this letter and on the abstracts.
